Scoring from a video is different and may take a little getting used to. Not much of the broadcast is shown from behind the plate where we usually sit. If you are checking the count on the batter remember that the umpires fingers are around the other way when shown from behind the pitcher. Also, if you can't tell exactly which fielder has caught/fielded the ball, that's OK – chose who you think it could have been.

If you need to, you can pause or rewind at any time. The replays shown may also help if you missed something or you are not sure which fielder(s) were involved in a play. Just be aware that some pitches are replayed. The onscreen pitch information is often behind or not correct – the commentators are usually (but not always) correct.

Also, in the bottom of the 3rd, ignore where they show the base runners (only Ward advances on McArdle).

It is up to you if you listen to the commentators or turn the volume down. Just be aware that the commentators are expressing their view and may not be correct when it comes to plays that are judgement calls; such as hits, errors, wild pitches and passed balls (they often call every pitch that goes behind the catcher a passed ball).

Once you have completed the game, please scan or photograph both pages of the scorebook and email them to us. Also, if you have any questions, please contact us.
